- Unless special arrangements are made, stallions must be available from February 1 to June 1 and in residence at YL Ranch until all booked mares have been bred.
- YL Ranch will collect all breeding fees before any breedings will be honored. YL Ranch does not retain any portion of the breeding fee and will at the stallion owners discretion either forward the collected funds to the stallion owner or apply the funds to the stallion owners account at YL Ranch.
- Board: Each stallion will be provided a stall as is appropriate and designated by the stallion owner or upon an individually negotiated basis. YL Ranch feeds Purina Strategy and Equine Senior along with high quality coastal and alfalfa hay; an appropriate diet will be formulated for each stallion. Any necessary vet care, vaccinations, farrier services, etc., are at the stallion owner's expense and will be billed directly to the stallion owner by those professionals who render said services.
- Exercise: Each stallion will be regularly exercised as is appropriate or upon an individually negotiated schedule as suggested by the stallion owner.
- Promotion: Each stallion will be advertised on YL Ranch's website and actively promoted by the staff of YL Ranch when contacted or visited by potential clients. Postage, stationery, use of miscellaneous office products regarding stallion promotion and/or returning long distance calls responding to client inquiries will be provided by YL Ranch. The stallion owner will have the option of having the staff of YL Ranch take photographs and videos of the stallion while in the care of YL Ranch. Any additional advertising, such as magazine ads or similar promotions, is at the stallion owner's expense.

- Presentation: Each stallion will be properly groomed, and subject to schedules and appointments, professionally presented to all interested clients upon their arrival to view the stallion.
- Other than investing in a Missouri model artificial vagina for each stallion, stallion owners will bear no expense associated with semen collection, evaluation, insemination, or shipment of cooled or frozen semen. YL Ranch will collect and retain these fees from the mare owners who purchase breedings.
- See attached fee schedule for rates.

All due diligence and personal supervision is exercised in taking quality care of on-premise horses by YL Ranch owners, employees, and their agents, but said individuals cannot be held responsible or liable for any disease, accident, injury or death of client animals or damage to cryopreserved samples while in the custodial care of YL Ranch.

Stallion Owners: Please fill out and forward this application to YL Ranch. Please also attach a copy of the stallion's pedigree, show record, notable offspring, and any other information that may be pertinent to selecting the highest quality stallions to represent YL Ranch. Applications for stallions that are accepted will be signed by the owner of YL Ranch and then serve as the stallion management contract. Copies of executed contracts will be sent to the stallion owner. All applicants will be notified of acceptance or decline by November 1.
